Sikeston nurse receives asthma school nursing award

A Sikeston Public Schools nurse has been honored with special recognition from the Missouri Department of Health. R-N, Nikki Vaught recently received the Asthma School Nursing Award from Missouri Asthma Prevention and Control Program. Program Manager, Peggy Gaddy tells KZIM-KSIM nurses whose work related to asthma were encouraged to try for the award. Gaddy says Vaught, and the 46 other recipients received an $800 grant to carry out training, disease management, or school health projects. Coaches in Scott County will be trained on how to detect and manage symptoms of asthma among elementary and high school students.
